FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New Brink's Home Security Office Opens in Rhode Island

IRVING, Texas (November 29, 2005) – Brink's Home Security recently opened its fourth new branch office of the year. The new branch is located in Lincoln, Rhode Island, and will serve the Providence, R.I. metro area and surrounding community. Other new Brink's Home Security branch offices opened this year include: Orlando, Florida; Atlanta, Georgia; and Frederick, Maryland.

“To serve our customers more effectively in the Providence, Rhode Island area, we needed to add an office south of the city. The convenience of this site in Rhode Island will help us perform service and sales calls more quickly,” said Tina Elgin, Northeast Regional Director for Brink's Home Security.

“Before opening the new branch, all Providence-area metro customers were served out of our office located north of Boston. The new branch office will allow us to expand our reach within the home security market in Rhode Island,” Elgin said.

“It is important for us to have a presence in Rhode Island. We do a lot of home security business in the state and want to make sure we are a good neighbor,” Elgin added.

John Tanner, who previously served as Technical Manager in the Boston Branch Office, will head the Lincoln Branch Office as General Manager. He has been with Brink's Home Security for four years. Mike Buthray will serve as Technical Manager of the new branch.

Previously, he was a supervisor in the Boston Branch Office.

The new branch office is located at 24 Albion Road, Lincoln, R.I. 02865, Building 300.
